

Arbor Court Homeowners

Beverly Waddell

Beverly has the patience of Job. She has waited nearly five years to realize her dream of homeownership. She is an extremely hard worker who has two jobs to make ends meet. In addition to these qualities, Beverly is just an all-around delightful person to know.

Demetria Whitehead

Demetria Whitehead has a 10-year-old daughter named D'Yonna. D'Yonna is in the 5th grade at Lindley Elementary. Demetria currently attends NC A&T University and will graduate in the fall of 2009. Demetria plans on working with special needs children after graduation.

James Scales

James Scales rents a studio apartment at Partnership Village. He has lived at this residence since January, 2007. Mr. Scales is disabled and is unable to work as a result. However, he has enrolled in some vocational rehab classes to better his chances of finding a part-time job. James loves to fish, and was on his high-school golf team when he attended Dudley.

Jonnie Mae Moore

Ms. Moore is a former resident of Partnership Village and now lives in Gateway Plaza. Ms. Moore's son was the one who encouraged her to pursue her dream of homeownership with Habitat. She continues to visit the staff at Partnership Village, and is a very active member of her church.

Lawrence Willis

Mr. Willis has worked for Guilford County's Maintenance Department since March, 2007 and is also a master gardener. He has one 18-year-old son, Lawrence Jr., who is a junior at Dudley Senior High. Lawrence was highly recommended to Habitat by public figures such as, Mayor Yvonne Johnson and Chief of Police, Tim Bellamy. Lawrence is extremely active in his community and church, where he serves on the Steward Board.

Michelle Fagg

Michelle has wanted a place of her own for a very long time, and is excited about the start of her new home. She's such a hard worker on the construction site that the crew leaders practically fight over whose team she will be on. She isn't afraid of heights and prefers to be on the roof laying shingles. Michelle works in the medical field, and has a 13-year-old son named Mark.
